

THE COYOTE FAMILY STAYS HOME!

SP4RS
★
GIVE

SP4RS
★
GIVE

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Spurs Give would like to extend their heartfelt thanks to the people below for dedicating their time and talents for making this book possible.

Dr. Heather Haynes Smith, Dr. Simran Jeet Singh,
Dr. Rocio Delgado, Dr. Debra Ochoa, Amanda Carlin

Trinity University students of:

- Understanding Learners With Exceptionalities in School and Society
- Reading Difficulties With Diverse Populations
- Teaching in the Bilingual (English/Spanish) classroom

Artwork by: Alexandra Rudd

Layout by: Andrea Kerns

GUIDING QUESTIONS

Here are some questions to guide discussions with your family and friends.

1. How did Junior feel when things started changing?
How did you feel when things started changing?
How do you feel now?
2. In the story, the Coyote Family wanted to be safe, healthy, and happy. What makes you feel safe?
How do you stay healthy and happy?
3. Junior suggested things his family could do to prepare. Make a list of five ways you can help others in your community.

ABOUT SPURS GIVE

In trying times like today, we believe togetherness is everything. Though some in our circles may seem further than ever lately, hopefully this book reminds you of the comfort in those closest to us. Because if the Coyote Family can get through this, we know you can too.

It's always been Spurs Give's mission to strengthen and serve our community through impactful programming, player engagements, and investments that enrich the lives of youth and those around them.

So with both that mission and this book's message in mind, we've created the Spurs Give Together Fund to help our community during this pandemic. To donate or learn more, visit SpursGive.org/Together. Together we are stronger.

Onward,

Jennifer Regnier
Executive Director
Spurs Give

San Antonio was like never before. Everyone had to stay home. People felt confused and Coyote Junior felt confused, too.

THE END

The Coyote

Enough love for everyone!" exclaimed Junior. "I agree! Let's stay home and be safe together," said Coyote. "Things may feel different right now, but together, we can make the best of it."

Parks were closed, schools were closed, and even the basketball arena was closed. Things just were not the same anymore.

“Unreal!” sighed Junior. “I just wish I could see my friends. When will things go back to normal? What are we supposed to do now?”

“Vegetables and fruits will make us healthy!” exclaimed Coyote. “Exercising will strengthen our bodies and minds! And as for our hearts, we have games, books, and...”

“I learned at school that safety comes first. I think we should try to stay home and wash our hands often,” suggested Junior.

Right then, Coyote Junior wanted to talk to his family. He knew he couldn’t get through this alone.

“Son," said Coyote, "Everything is going to be okay. Your mother and I are here for you. We'll get through this together if we work as a team!"

“Great idea," replied Mrs. Coyote. "Let's gather what we need to be safe, healthy, and happy. What do you suggest, Junior?"

